

Spanish Designer Juan Duyos will create Next MAR DE FRADES EDICION LIMITADA

“My inspiration lies on the colossal Atlantic Ocean, and also on remains of my next collection, silver rhinestones that simulates the beating of the waves”, says this devotee of the needle.

He is one of the most solid and consolidated artist in the world of Spanish fashion names. Juan Duyos has been chosen to create the iconic Limited Edition Mar de Frades, a wine that also has become a fixture of the season. The Spaniard designer, who is a true devotee of the art of the needle accepts the challenge with all the enthusiasm.

The fashion designer is already working on the design of this unique cobalt blue bottle that will see the light precisely at the next show Spring Summer Duyos in September at Mercedes Benz Fashion Week Madrid. By then, apart from revealing the expected result of his performance, the designer will make a unique and totally unexpected wink during the presentation of the collection. " My inspiration lies on the colossal Atlantic Ocean, and also on remains of my next collection, silver rhinestones that simulates the beating of the waves breaking into foam on the shore," Duyos says.

The new bottle of this Albariño, born next to the sea, in front of the Arousa estuary, will arrive, according to its creator, to become "an object-fetish. I think the audience will be attracted to her. "

About Juan Duyos:

Juan Duyos, born in Madrid, began working in 1992 with designer Manuel Piña while, in parallel, designed his first collections with Cecilia Paniagua, as DUYOS & Paniagua.
